Tom Head appointed as new district judge for Coffee County

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace announced last week that he had accepted the resignation of District Judge Gary McAliley as the new district judge for Coffee County to serve the remaining two years of the term of Judge Gary McAliley, who will assume the post of circuit judge.

Head, who has served as assistant district attorney since 1981, will assume the post of circuit judge on Monday, Jan. 19, and serve as district judge during the two years remaining on the term, after which a judge will be elected to fill a full six-year term.

The new judge is a native of Covington County and attended Auburn University before entering the banking profession in Montgomery. He returned to college to seek a law degree and received the degree in 1979.

Head began his practice in Elba and worked for private practice with Gareth Lindsey for two years. While in private practice, he worked part-time with the Coffee County district attorney, and in 1981 accepted a position as a full-time assistant to fill Judge McAliley's shoes, stated Head. "Because I cannot think of anyone more dedicated to his post, Judge McAliley works longer and harder than anyone, and I will do my best to serve the people of Coffee County to the best of my ability."

"I made the commitment many years ago to serve the public," added Head. "and I view this appointment with mixed emotions. I have enjoyed very much working with District Attorney Joel Folmar and his staff over the past five years and hope we can continue to have an enjoyable working relationship in the years to come."

"There is no doubt in my mind that in two years Tom Head will be the best judge in the state," he said.

Year," stated Judge McAliley.

"He is the type of person who will work hard and make all the people of Coffee County proud of him."

Board makes construction plans for high school

The Elba City School Board met Thursday, Jan. 8, and made plans for the first time in months they had money enough to pay the bills plus some to start the next month. The excitement was dampened, however, when some board members were told that the money was property tax funds that came mostly in December and January and must last for the next 12 months.

The property tax money was running slightly above the same period in 1985, $1,444, Sept. Bill Crews told the board.

The school should begin receiving the proceeds from the new 1-cent countywide sales tax this month, with the first check expected by Jan. 15.

The board officially approved the schedule of holidays to allow for President's Day on Feb. 16. It had been misprinted on an early release

Elba council meeting is brief

The Elba City Council met briefly Monday afternoon at 5 p.m. It took less than 15 minutes to conduct the regular business.

Chairman Charles White reported two officers were in school: Wesley Devane in the police academy, and Tom Head, the choice of area law enforcement officials.

McAliley stated however that in the meeting he had received information that Hunt was in favor of reclassifying the county judge position to the party unitites and again pledged to appoint the most qualified person to the post.

OBITUARIES

TERESA D. STAMM
Mrs. Teresa D. Stamm, 31, of West Reading, Pa., formerly of Elba, was killed in an automobile accident Friday, January 9, 1987.

Mrs. Stamm was born in Elba, the daughter of Maylene M. Madox Stamm of Mohrsville, Pa. and the late Brenton McDaniel. She was a member of Woodland Grove Baptist Church.

Survivors include a son, Brett A. Stamm Jr., West Reading, Pa.; one brother - Michael W. McDaniel, Florida; one sister - Linda L. McDaniel, Elba; and a step-brother - Thomas A. Stamm, and a step-sister - Janice M. Stamm, both of Mohrsville; her step-father - Warren Stamm, Mohrsville; grandmother - Matilda G. McDaniel, Elba.

Mrs. Stamm was reported to have been involved in the accident, in which he was thrown into a river and according to reports his body had not been found at press time.

Funeral services will be held Friday, Jan. 16, at 10:30 a.m. at Kirkhoff Funeral Home in Elba, Pa., with burial in St. Thomas Cemetery in Bernville, Kirkhoff.

BAMA FARRIS BEASLEY
Bama Farris Beasley, age 74, of Montgomery, died January 7, 1987, in a Montgomery Hospital.

Funeral services will be held Jan. 8, at 11 a.m. from Hayes Funeral Home Chapel, with burial in Bethlehem Cemetery, with Hayes Elba General Hospital....

"OUR HOSPITAL"

It is 12:00 noon and you are getting up from your desk to go to lunch. Suddenly you are gripped by a severe, squeezing sensation behind your breast bone. You break out in a cold sweat. The room spins violently. You are extremely nauseated. Then the whole world goes gray, and you lose consciousness. Fortunately, one of your co-workers has already called for help, and the rescue squad arrives to take you to the emergency room. CPR is performed effectively, and you are saved.

The physician on call recognizes the rhythm disturbance and administered an electric shock which restarts proper heart function. Appropriate medications and oxygen are given to further stabilize your condition prior to admission to the hospital.

You have been very fortunate. The physician on call was acquainted with your condition and was able to treat rapidly what otherwise might have been a fatal attack.

This scenario is not unrealistic. In the 3 1/2 years since I have been in Elba, this has happened to me personally (as the physician of course) several times. Yet a good number of people in our community continue to seek medical care in Enterprise, Dothan and Montgomery on the assumption that "bigger is better." This is simply not true. In my experience, bigger just means more confusion.

There are many people in our city who, while having been cared for by the larger surrounding communities for the most part, have been forced by circumstances to seek emergency care locally. A total lack of knowledge of the patient's past medical history frequently will cause a doctor to delay treatment or inappropriate diagnostic tests be run. Time, however, is sometimes not available. The "John Wayne" style of medicine (shooting from the hip) is not desirable for anyone concerned.

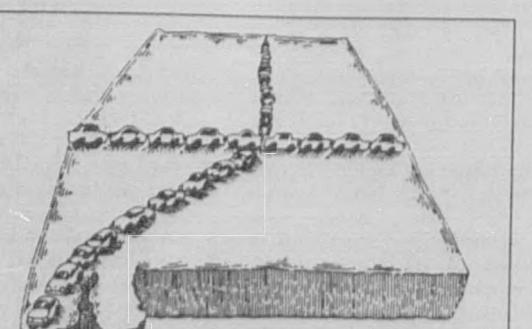

Dr. Dyess and I both feel that we can handle the vast majority of this community's medical problems. Those that we cannot handle personally will be transferred to an appropriate specialist for definitive care. Both of us have the training, experience and common sense to recognize a case that needs specialty evaluation.

Any medical care facility requires money in order to function at all. This money, by and large, comes from the patients' insurance companies. There have been rumors about Elba General Hospital closing ever since I have been here. Although this does not appear to be much of a possibility at this time, increased failure on the part of the people of Elba to utilize our facility could eventually result in financial failure. I certainly do not want to see this happen.

Can you imagine the city of Elba without a hospital? Our community would suffer immeasurably and, more importantly, some people would probably die needlessly. Any industry interested in locating in the area would be negatively influenced by the lack of an adequate health care facility. Many more detrimental effects would probably take place, but these details are the major ones.

Dr. Dyess, all the staff of Elba General Hospital, and I need your support. We are very strongly that you need our support also. The loyalty of those of you who have supported us in the past is greatly appreciated, and we look forward to increased support in the future. This our community and together we can make it work better.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

BY: SHARON POPE

To give everyone a little holiday spirit and to wish them a Merry Christmas before the holidays, the band and chorus, under the direction of Band Director David Seanor, performed "A Christmas Carol" for the high school students.

The band opened the program with "The Star Spangled Banner", then the chorus sang "It Snakes Like Snakes". Chorus then sang a medley of Christmas carols, and "Angels We Have Heard on High." The band then played many numbers including "A Holly Jolly Christmas," "Winter Wonderland," "A Christmas Portrait," "Sleigh Ride," and "White Christmas." They ended the program with the all-time favorite "The Twelve Days of Christmas."

BAND MASTERS' MEETING

BY: TAMMY DUNCAN

Mr. David Seanor, Zion Chapel Band director attended the annual convention of the Alabama Band Masters Association in Birmingham Southern February 9 thru 10. The Alabama Band Masters Association is the convention of several music organizations including Alabama Band Masters Association.

The music department at the University of Birmingham Southern provided rehearsal facilities, demonstration, as well as areas for clinics. On the last day of the convention a concert was held by the Alabama reading band.

WORKING STUDENTS

BY: CONNIE FLOWERS

Piggy Wiggy, Western Steer, Winn Dixie, and the Brundidge shirt factory are just a few places that you will find some of the students of the Class of '87.

In many cases, working part-time is the best way to find out if students are working to pass time, earn responsibility, and make extra money.

When asked if they would like to make a career out of their present occupation, every students answered no. The students said they really enjoyed their job but have plans of fulfilling their education to have a better, more stable job in order to support themselves financially in the future.

The students usually work for 20-35 hours a week. The majority said that it didn't interfere with school very much because their supervisors are very understanding and cooperate very well with their educational schedule.

The students said that they feel their hobby was a talent or a gift? Was it something that he had at work and put effort into it? Only one person said she had to really work at it. The others considered it a talent.

CREATIVE ARTISTS

BY: CHERYL FAISON

Creativity is an ability most people possess in one form or another, such as the several talented young artists at Zion Chapel. Their abilities to draw well have been shared by many of the students and faculty of Zion Chapel.

Several students artists were interviewed for this article, three boys and four girls.

Each student was asked if they felt their hobby was a talent or a gift? Was it something that he had at work and put effort into it? Only one person said she had to really work at it. The others considered it a talent.

Students learn for the future

BY: ASTRID BLASCHKA

Economics is a study of the process by which people make and spend their incomes. This is a subject studied by seniors first semester.

In the beginning students studied the economy and how it affects consumers. Business organizations were discussed, as they play an important role in our lives by producing goods, services, and jobs.

Another unit discussed was the importance of buying wisely, (choosing real bargains, valuing of goods and services.) Consumer protection agencies and advertisements were reviewed also.

During the study of advertising students created their own product or service and advertised it. They were required to include all things a consumer would need to know such as price, description, and object of product.

Credit and housing were studied also. The unit on credit examined some of the ways credit may help to shape a family's growth and financial security. It also covered the economic problems of the use of credit. The chapter on housing examined some advantages and disadvantages of buying and owning a home. It also listed places where money can be borrowed for a home.

During second semester the students will go into government. Coach Holley hopes to teach what is in the book as well as discussing current events.

CLUB'S CELEBRATE CHRISTMAS

BY: LAVONIA JOHNSON & PETE BRYAN

Organizations and clubs of various kinds had Christmas parties on December 19. If David and Wayne are chosen at this try-out, they will have to try out again in the central competition. If they win high scores there, they will become members of one of the three All-State Bands - the red, white or blue band - is considered to be a very prestigious honor among many high school band students.

David and Wayne, along with many other band students from other schools, will be required to play three prepared musical pieces, all within their playing ability.

Wayne, who plays the trumpet, tried out last year. He said he thought the experience helped his playing ability.

Views From The Pressbox By, Ricky Mularz

I'm definitely not in the mood to write this week's column, but it's already past 10 p.m., and if I don't write it soon I'll fall asleep and mess up my schedule before the week even starts. Oh well, here goes...

ELBA TIGERS SEE BASKETBALL SLATE GO TO 2-7

The Elba Tigers suffered two of the worst losses in recent basketball history last week, but did manage to sandwich in a win in between the losses to claim their second win of the season. At least the week wasn't a complete loss!

The Tigers' losses came in the form of a 105-48 and Andalusia (64-26), and while the losses weren't unexpected, the wins were somewhat as complete shocks. Clayton reportedly pulled off its starters early in the game despite the fact the starters scored 20 of 28 points in the fourth quarter, while Andalusia didn't even think about pulling off its starters and beat the Tigers 10 as bad as it could. I guess it's a personal grudge when a coach runs his team's basketball program, but I can't imagine that he's any better just because of the score! To each his own!

Elba's lone win of the week came over county rival Kinston in a game that was marred by almost constant whistle-blowing by the referees. The refs called almost 60 fouls in the game and fouled out a total of eight players, including five from Kinston that made the Bulldogs finish the game with only three players left on the court. I'm not saying the refs did a bad job, I'm just saying they called the game very close and the result was one I'll not soon forget.

Elba's schedule doesn't get any easier in the near future and the Tigers will regroup and muster up a little pride or the season will get a whole lot worse. Opp and Clayton visit to the Elba gym in the next couple of days and powerball is waiting down the road, so Elba has a big job ahead of it, and the Tigers have a chance to go out winners or go out with one of the school's worse records ever. C'mon Tigers - surprise some folks!

COUNTY BASKETBALL TEAMS CONTINUE TO PROVIDE INTEREST

The basketball season has been an interesting one in Coffee County and last week was just another chapter in the never-ending saga. Here is a quick look back at the week that was.

Enterprise posted wins over Louisville and Eufaula to its record to 13-1, and while the Wildcats still haven't defeated a lot of 6A teams they have the best record in the state and could be the major surprise of the year. The 'Cats will get into the meat of their schedule pretty soon and we'll find out just how good they really are.

Zion Chapel lost in the opening round of the SEAC tourney to Brantley as its record continued to drop, but the Rebels are still in the running for the Area title and have enough talent to pull it off. In the loss to Brantley the Rebels played without the services of their top two scorers due to disciplinary reasons and still managed to beat the talented Bulldogs for most of the contest. Zion Chapel is my darkhorse to play a major role in the outcome of the Area 5 race.

Kinston came off a long layoff with a loss to Elba, but the Bulldogs showed that they still have a lot of pride and will be a team to watch as the season heads to its final stretch. The Bulldogs are still appearing to have the restrictive probation lifted and have no area or area team to beat in the state. However, the bad times have a way of pulling people together and I think this will be the case with Kinston. The Bulldogs are down but not out!

New Brockton rebounded from its two losses in the Opp tourney to post two wins in rolling to the championship of the SEAC tourney. The Gamecocks have come out of the race since its beginning and the tourney crown obviously fits very well. The Gamecocks are a lot like Auburn was in football -- they don't have any stars around - just a bunch of players that are winners!

LITTLE LEAGUE BASKETBALL IS WORTH WATCHING

The Little League basketball season in Elba reaches full swing this week as the 7-8-9 year-olds begin play for the first time ever. The youngsters have been wanting to play for a number of years but were left out due to a lack of coaches and practice facilities, but the kids will get their chance this Saturday, and I know it will be worth watching!

BULLDOGS SURROUND TIGER . . . Elba center Jeff Kelley (30) signals for a time out to get him the ball despite being double-teamed by two Kinston defenders. The Tigers defeated Kinston 59-50 for their second win of the season.

Tigers Fall To Clayton 105-48 In Area Matchup

The Clayton Tigers pulled away midway through the opening stanza and never looked back Tuesday night as the highly-ranked Tigers posted a lopsided 105-48 win over the Elba Tigers at the Clayton gym.

record, 1-2 in Area 4 action, while Clayton improved its record to 10-2 with a 1-0 win.

Elba surprised the highly-touted Tigers by jumping out to a quick 6-0 lead; however, Clayton took advantage of its quickness and a sticky defense to catch Elba and open up a 21-11 lead after one quarter.

Clayton got its running game in gear in the second stanza and scored almost at will as the Tigers poured in 33 points in the first half with a big 54-24 advantage.

Elba battled the Tigers on near even terms in the third quarter, but Clayton never slowed down and ran away to claim the 105-48 rout.

Derrick Townsend scored 11 points to lead the Tigers, while Babba Kelley added 10. Cedric Cole scored 11 for Clayton and McArthur Kyles and Alonso Smith both added 10.

Maurice Brown scored 21 points to pace Clayton, while Willie Clatt added 17 and Jeffrey Blakely scored 16.

New Brockton Gamecocks Roll To SEAC Tournament Title

The New Brockton Gamecocks easily defeated their challengers last week to claim the championship of the Southeast Alabama Conference Basketball Tournament, held at the New Brockton High School gym.

Red Level finished second in the sister tournament, while Goshen, semi-finalists included Goode and Brantley. Roundout the field were Zion Chapel and Dozier.

Following are highlights of the Gamecocks' march to the crown:

NEW BROCKTON 70
BRANTLEY 54

The New Brockton Gamecocks opened with a slow start to defeat the Brantley Bulldogs 70-54 in the semifinals of the SEAC tournament.

The win upset the Gamecocks record to 10-3 and moved New Brockton into the finals, while Dozier added 16 and Leon Foster added 15.

Travis Carney scored 16 points for Kinston and Brantley Nobles added 13.

Nursing Home Spotlight

With Shirley Wise

January is half gone already, today being the 15th, and this week we're visiting Mrs. Violena Cox Wilkerson, who has been a resident of the Elba Nursing Home since 1961.

According to Miss Violena's admittance to the nursing home she lived with her daughter Mildred in Enterprise. She had lived with her most of her life and only a week or two after she moved there the nursing home Mildred passed away. Miss Violena has been sick for some time.

We spoke with Miss Violena's sister, Mrs. Mattie Coleman, of New Brockton, who is a most alert, spry and youthful 82-year-old lady, who very shortly will have a birthday - the 17th of this month. When I asked her how old she was, she said 84 and then quickly corrected herself, saying, "No, I'm just 83 - I won't be 84 till Jan. 17." We laughed and agreed that - what is one year when you're 83 and only a week when you're 84?

Mrs. Mattie, as have all the other folks with whom we've talked in doing these articles, answered our questions kindly and patiently, and we are deeply appreciative of her for sharing some of Miss Violena's background and life with us.

Miss Violena was born November 15, 1909, probably somewhere near the town of Geneva, as that is where she and her siblings were reared, and as best Miss Mattie and I could determine, in Geneva.

Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. Mid Cox. Mrs. Cox being the former Regger Norton. Both her parents, around the town of Clayton, the best I remember - I remember them talking about Clayton," said Miss Mattie.

Mr. Cox was a farmer.

Miss Mattie has sweet, warm memories of her parents. About them she said the following next thing:

"They were good, hard-working folks. I had a real sweet good mama. They were both real strict with us," she quickly replied, adding, when asked if it were her mother or father who disciplined them.

And, I imagine it did take both parents pulling together to rear their family and support them; for Mr. and Mrs. Cox were patriarch and matriarch of a large family - 14 children to be exact, of whom all three are still living.

The surviving brother is Mr. Joe Nathan Cox, who resides in Waycross, Ga., and whose wife's name was Helen. The parents of Helen were deceased, four grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

The only surviving sister of Miss Violena is the aforementioned Miss Mattie, who resides in New Brockton, with her son and daughter, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Cox, who, I believe, are deceased.

Mr. Cox, who was a resident of Crestview, Fla., was the father of three children, and was a baker.

Mr. Cox, who lived in Enterprise and was an employee of Sessions Peanut Mill. He was never married.

Mr. Cox, who was a resident of New Brockton, and unmarried at the time of his death. He was the father of one child.

Manasse Cox, whom everyone called "Ted." At the time of his passing he was living in Port St. Joe, Fla.

Mary Ila, who died as an infant, Bill, who was two years old when he passed away. Miss Mattie said he fell from a piano onto the pump which caused his death.

A baby girl, stillborn.

Charlotte Hurt, who made her home in Brooklyn, N.Y., and whose husband was Harry Hurt. Miss Charlotte was an employee and was the mother of one child.

Then there was Mrs. Andrews, whose husband was Ridgeway Andrews, also deceased. Miss Andrews was a resident of New Brockton, and a widow. She was employed at the F.W. Woolworth Co.

Lorenzo Cox, a resident of New Brockton, he was a farmer, and his wife, Mary Winnie did not have any children.

Miss Mattie told us that Miss Violena was married to Namon Wilkerson, who is a retired farmer from Elba.

He was the son of Mack and Lause Wilkerson. Mr. Mack was a farmer.

Miss Violena is the mother of seven children, of whom four are living. They are:

James, a resident of Far Rockaway, N.Y., where he is a construction worker. His wife Josephine is deceased, and James is the father of three children and one grandchild.

Mary Ruth McWaters, whose husband is Jimmy and they reside in New York. They have one child and no grandchildren.

Sam, who resides in Bellwood now with his wife Doris, but who was a resident of New York, and is retired and they have four children, two sons and two daughters, and one step-son.

Miss Violena's deceased children are:

Willie Foy, who drowned when a teenager.

Mildred Gross, who lived in Enterprise and was married to John Gross, an employee of Conagra. They had no children.

A baby daughter who was lost while Miss Violena suffered a miscarriage.

Miss Violena is lovingly called "Grandmama" by her grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

We were informed by Miss Violena that she is a member of the United Baptist Church in Bellwood.

Her roommates at the nursing home are Mrs. Mildred Harper, whom we met through these pages three or four weeks ago, and Mrs. Vera Green.

Miss Mattie, when we asked what Miss Violena's favorite food was, replied, "I can't tell you what we could get to eat, we went to eat, we went to eat, we went to eat."

When we asked Miss Violena's hobby, she said, "She didn't have a hobby. We always worked from day to night to day to day. We picked cotton from the first till the last one. We did all kinds of hard work."

McAliley & Head sworn in Monday during ceremony at Enterprise

An overwhelming crowd of friends, law officers and other court officials turned out Monday evening at the Enterprise Civic Center to witness the swearing-in of two judges. A crowd estimated at from 300-500 squeezed into the facility until past 6:30. All three clad in their judicial robes, Probate Judge Marion Brunson greeted visitors and presented them to Circuit Judge Gary McAliley and District Judge Tom Head, the latter being Judge Brunson's wife. Also in the receiving line presenting printed programs were the Little Miss winners from Enterprise, New Stanton and Tuscumbia.

Attorney Merrill Shadley, president of the Coffee County Bar Association, opened the ceremonies with a welcome and a few comments about the devotion the two judges had shown to the community during the last few years.

The men were introduced to the crowd and a review of their lives from the date of birth up to the present was given. Both men were born in Elba in south Alabama but followed slightly different paths to their present positions.

McAliley, 46, of the group expressed some of his plans for working to improve both the judicial system and the public's image of the court system. He ended with tears in his eyes as he noted how much he had enjoyed his ten years of service as district judge.

Brunson, 46, of the group, was much more matter-of-fact. He couldn't too anything Judge McAliley had said. Head thanked all those who had helped him obtain this lofty position and promised not to make them sorry for their help nor ashamed of his actions. He promised fairness and justice for all.

Coffee County Probate Judge Marion Brunson completed his fourth year in office on January 17, and the popular county official received a standing ovation every minute of the ceremony. Young Elba man killed in accident

A young Elba man was killed early Saturday morning when the vehicle he was driving left Highway 189, north of Elba, and struck a tree.

The victim, identified as Daniel Rone (Danny) Ennis, age 19, was apparently traveling south on Highway 189 when he lost control of the pickup truck he was driving. The truck left the road and struck the embankment, going down an embankment and knocking down two smaller trees before hitting a large pine tree head-on on the driver's side of the road.

The accident was discovered at approximately 2:15 a.m., while the Elba Rescue Squad was called to the scene at 2:50 a.m. and found the victim pinned inside the wreckage. An initial account of the victim's condition was revealed as pulse, according to Rescue Squad officials, and it took squad members approximately 20 minutes to free the victim's body from the wreckage, using the jaws-of-life.

Ennis, a 1985 graduate of Elba

High School, was a popular student and excelled both in the classroom and in athletics, where he was named to numerous all-star football teams. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie (Zack) Ennis, of Elba. (See obituary on Page 2.)

JAYCEE WEEK DECLARED IN ELBA . . . Elba City Clerk D.M. English signs a proclamation declaring the week of Jan. 18-24 as Jaycee Week in the city of Elba. Looking on at the signing are Jaycee members Stuie Henderson, Bill Brunson and Kenneth Calhoun.

Jan. 18-24 proclaimed as 'Jaycee Week'

The week of January 18-24 has been proclaimed as Jaycee Week in Elba, saluting the Elba Jaycees for their contribution to the community through such projects as the Coffee County Jr. Miss program, the annual Fall Festival, Arts and Crafts, CPR training, seminars, annual Christmas parade, and the organization's benevolent work with area foster children, the underprivileged and the elderly.

The event has been set aside nationally as a celebration of the beginning of the Jaycees in St. Louis in 1915, when founder Henry Giessensberg formed a young men's organization that in 1920 became the Elba Jaycees.

Shealy sworn in to state board

Steadman S. Shealy Jr. was sworn in as a new member of the State Board of Education from District II at a ceremony Monday morning, Jan. 19, in Montgomery, Alabama. Supreme Court Chief Justice C.C. "Bo" Torbert performed the swearing-in.

Shealy was sworn in the oath of office in November in order to complete the District III term of board member Nolan Williams, who resigned after winning election to the state legislature.

The District II includes 13 counties in southeast Alabama.

Shealy said one of his first objectives is to learn the procedures of the state board.

"A Dothan attorney, Shealy said, "I plan to work hard, fact and evaluate them, and that's what I want to do as a member of the board: take the facts and evaluate them and do what's best for education in Alabama."

His goals as a member of the state board include improving Alabama's high pupil/teacher ratio, working with the legislature to adequately fund education, and providing more high technology centers and training for students.

Shealy is the head of a new public education program in Dothan called

"People's Law School," and also serves on the board of directors for

"My Father's House," a local home for young men. He played quarterback for the University of Alabama's Crimson Tide, 1978-79, National Champions, football team. Under the Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant and is an honors graduate of the University. He is married to the former Ann Wood of Heflin.

ATTEMPTED BREAK-IN DISCOVERED . . . Elba policemen stand atop the roof of The Elba Clipper Saturday morning following the discovery of an attempted break-in at the Clipper building. Would-be burglars knocked down a small chimney on the top of the building and ripped apart a small portion of roof in an attempt to gain entry into the office; however, supposedly gave up the attempt as nothing was found to be disturbed inside the building.
